FIELD OF BREAK O' DAY

TO OUR DAHLIA FRIENDS:

We wish to thank our many customers who are so kindly helping to increase the dahlia enthusiasm. It is gratifying to serve you year after year, which assures us that Dahlias of Quality and Distinction are a success.

We are now entering the era of the dahlia fad, which is fast surpassing that of all other flowers. The fanciers and flower lovers of the day are turning to this wonderful flower, realizing the possibilities of the dahlia for competitive exhibition, home beautifying and landscape effects.

After you have carefully considered the Special Collections and catalogue in general we feel sure you will find it pays to buy from the grower direct who combines the sale of cut flowers with that of roots which tends to lessen the overhead costs. Even though the cost of production has more than doubled, we are listing the dahlias of four years ago at a lower price, and we are enabled to give you a better value than ever before, considering the first-class quality of stock, especially in our 1921 Collections.

To our new friends we would say it will give us great pleasure to hear from you, and we assure you of the highest possible quality of our stock, as all the dahlias used in filling orders are grown here at

Dahlias of Distinction

In making up this list of dahlias we have eliminated most of the varieties that make poor roots, as it is very hard to fill orders for these varieties and unsatisfactory if you lose your stock during the following winter. As there are so many fine new dahlias to take their places, we are sure they will never be missed.

The size of a root does not determine the quality or vitality of a dahlia. A root two or three inches long with a healthy sprout is more desirable for planting than one or more roots of a much larger size.

The dahlias in this catalogue have been grown at Dahliadel Nurseries, Vineland, N. J., by Warren W. Maytrott, where seventeen acres are devoted to the growing of dahlias exclusively, and where nothing but the finest and newest dahlias are grown. Any plant showing signs of weakness or disease is dug from the field as soon as detected, making the stock the cleanest and best procurable. Only the varieties that show the most vitality and bloom freely throughout the season are catalogued. The colors are bright, clear shades and combinations. Each year brings a finer selection than we have ever offered before.

Orders will be filled with strong field-grown root-divisions unless an unforeseen shortage should occur, in which case growing plants will be sent direct from the Nurseries.

Guarantee

Only the best and strongest root-divisions are used in filling orders, and the utmost care exercised. But should an error occur, we will gladly rectify it if notified as soon as error is detected. Most failures in starting plants and roots are due to improper planting or because of attacking insects. No guarantee is given that plants or roots will grow and bloom, as that depends largely on soil, climatic conditions and attention. But should a root properly planted fail to start a shoot in two or three weeks after planting, return it to the Nurseries direct by mail and another will be sent at once.

Terms and Delivery

Dahlia roots and plants will be sent, carriage prepaid, C. O. D., unless cash accompanies the order; purchaser to pay C. O. D. charges. If cash accompanies the order, roots or plants will be sent prepaid, by express or by parcel post, whichever is better, considering distance and size of order.

DAHLIADEL NURSERIES

Vineland, N. J.

BILLIE

The Dahliadel Nurseries are situated on East Landis Avenue, and consist of seventeen acres of the finest and newest dahlias grown, eight acres of which are irrigated—a necessity where thousands of green plants are set out regardless of weather conditions. The equipment of the plant consists of a large concrete shipping and packing building, frost and fire proof, as much of the stock could not be duplicated in case of loss. Three greenhouses are devoted to propagation work, where the roots are bedded in January and grown at a low temperature. When the shoots are of proper size the cuttings are made and layered in sand from three to five weeks, then potted and protected until there is sufficient root growth to be planted in the fields.

Mr. Maytrott inaugurated his enterprise in a small way with two varieties, shipping to New York produce merchants. Today some three hundred and fifty varieties, including the finest procurable in this country and Europe, are grown on the seventeen acres, and the flowers are shipped daily in season, the plant supplying the very best trade in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

The spectacle at the Maytrott Nurseries in season is one of the sights of Vineland, acre after acre of gorgeous bloom making a scene of rare beauty, and the Nurseries are the objective of many Vinelanders and their visitors, the management always extending a hearty welcome.
